ADJOURN TRIAL SO WITNESSES CAN BE HEARD IN COURT

Kornely Denies Woman's Story of Demand for $25 for Return of Money

The case of Mrs. Katie Fritsch vs. T. A. Kornely which was being tried in municipal court by County Judge Fred V. Holmstrom, acting municipal judge, was adjourned Friday to Thursday, Feb. 12, in order to permit two witnesses from Minneapolis who were unable to testify at this time to be called in by the defense. Mrs. Fritsch is suing for $1,500 and several years' interest which she said she had lost through alleged fraudulent representations by the defendant. Mr. Kornely occupied the stand the greater part of the trial as far as it progressed. Mrs. Fritsch who is quite enfeebled by age had testified that when she thought over the matter of the mortgage investment she had placed in the defendant's hands, she regretted turning the mortgage over to a western land company and thereupon went with her son to Mr. Kornely's home that evening to ask for the return of it. She was told, she said, that it was too late and that the papers had already been mailed. She had conferred with him at the office at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and then went to his home after 7:30 that same evening. It was testified that she also testified that the defendant offered to return her papers in consideration for $25. Mr. Kornely denied making that offer. Copies of letters written by Mr. Kornely in behalf of the woman were read in court. Mrs. Fritsch's memory seem to fail her in many of the questions put to her in the examination.

HELPLESS DOG WATCHES BRAVE COMPANION SINK IN ICY WATER OF FOX

A dog's futile struggle for life in the icy waters of the Fox river while its canine companion looked on powerlessly to help was the pathetic sight witnessed by an interested spectator on S. Cherry-st bridge Thursday afternoon.
The observer was quite in the same situation as the dog that could not help without risking its own life. The two dogs were crossing the ice toward the south bank when the ice gave way under one. The animal tried time and again to get back on the ice, but could not get a firm foothold.
When the dog struck out for the south bank it appeared that it would be able to save itself on the dam, but after the animal swam more than half way it turned back more than defeated in its attempts to get back on solid ice. Once more the animal struck out for shore but was soon overcome by exhaustion. Raising its head above the water as if in final appeal for help it sank underneath the chilly waters and disappeared from view.
All during the struggle the other dog hovered nearby and followed from a distance. But when its companion failed to rise again, it started off on a trot to the south side of the river. It is believed that both dogs were from the Fourth ward. The dog that drowned was black, with long shaggy hair.

BUSY SCHEDULE FOR COLLEGE DEBATORS

One of the busiest weeks for Lawrence college debaters will begin Monday night when two college teams go to Oshkosh to give an exhibition open forum debate before the Mens' club of the First Methodist church of that city. The affirmative speakers will be J. Alden Rehne, Appleton, Philip Mitchell, Wittenberg and Chester D. Seftenberg, Oshkosh. The negative team will consist of William Henock, Milwaukee, George Christensen, Oshkosh, and Winifred Bird, River Falls.
Tuesday night a Lawrence affirmative team will meet the Carroll negatives at Mauston. Wednesday night the Lawrence negative debates the Ripon affirmative at Two Rivers. These will be the third series of debates under the new system on the question. Resolved: that Congress be empowered to override by a two-thirds majority, decisions of the Supreme Court which declare acts of Congress unconstitutional.
The debates next week probably will give every man on the large Lawrence squad the opportunity to appear in another contest. Plans are practically completed for a 5-day tour of cities in the western part of the state later in the month. Two teams from Lawrence and two from Ripon will make the trip, debating at a different city each night.

Boettiger's committee on social welfare will assemble at 7:15 Thursday evening at the same place. Other committee meetings will be arranged later.

DOC STORK LEAVES LAMB IN GRAND CHUTE AS HERALD OF SPRING

Appearances of robins, grosbeaks and orlats reported by residents in this locality may be regarded as heralds of spring, but the Waters brothers, Dennis and John, of Grand Chute, maintain they have absolute assurance of it now. In order to provide a sure sign of spring, it remained for Doctor Stork to spring a surprise Thursday, for since that day the first spring lamb has been bleating and springing on the Waters farm.

BISHOP DEDICATES NEW SISTER HOME

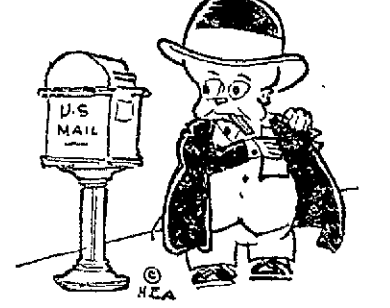

Dedication of the new sisters house of St. Joseph parish by the Right Rev. Paul P. Rhode, bishop of the Green Bay diocese, took place Saturday morning. A mass was said in the new building by Bishop Rhode, following the blessings.
Sisters from Sacred Heart, Greenville and St. Mary churches were invited to the ceremony. Magr. W. J. Fitzmaurice, pastor of St. Mary parish, also was present, as well as school children and laymen.
The sisters are not occupying the building now, but expect to be in it by next week.

U. W. ALUMNI ORGANIZER WILL VISIT IN APPLETON

Appleton is included in the 21 Wisconsin cities which will be visited this month by John Dawson, former president of the University of Wisconsin Union board, who has been appointed temporary traveling representative of the General Alumni association.
Mr. Dawson will make two trips to give information about the university to local alumni groups and to help forming new alumni clubs in preparation for Founders day celebration which will be held in February.
Equipped with names of all the graduates living in Wisconsin, geographically divided into 70 groups, Mr. Dawson will consult prominent alumni in representative cities and call general meetings to organize clubs.
Mr. Dawson started last week on his first state tour to visit Watertown, Beaver Dam, Horicon, Elgin, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Appleton, Green Bay and possibly Oconto, and Marinette. Sturgeon Bar, Algoma, Kewaunee, Manitowish, Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Racine, Waukegan, Kenosha, Lake Geneva, Elkhorn and Jefferson. After returning to Madison Mr. Dawson will take a second trip, touring at least one central town in each county.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

Will Concrete Blocks Burn, Crumble Or Disintegrate?

For two years past the UNDERWRITER LABORATORIES have conducted severe fire tests on Concrete Block Walls.

These tests have been much more severe than could be obtained in any actual fire. In none of the many tests made did fire penetrate the walls or did the blocks crumble or disintegrate, in fact with 2000° of heat on one side of the walls it was 3 hours before the unexposed side became hot enough to set paper, that might be in contact with it, on fire.

The Underwriters Laboratories recommend a 2 hour fire rating on Concrete Blocks made of materials and methods as are employed in the manufacture of

ALDERMEN AND TWO JUDGES ARE TO BE ELECTED IN APRIL

Nomination Papers for Election as Aldermen Must Be Filed by March 9

State, county and local officers are to be elected at the spring election which will take place on Tuesday, April 7. The primary election for Appleton will take place two weeks earlier, or on Mar. 24.

Among the state officers to be voted upon are a supreme court justice and the state superintendent of schools. As for county officers, those of the municipal and county judges become vacant this year. The term of Judge A. M. Spencer of the municipal court expires on May 1, while that of Judge Fred V. Heinemann of the county court will expire Jan. 1, 1925. Another county office to be voted on in spring is that of county superintendent of schools which is held by A. G. Meating. The term will expire on July 1. The cities of Appleton, Kaukauna and New London may not vote on this office since they are not under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent.

PRIMARY IN CITY

No primary is held for the state and county offices, but Appleton will hold a primary election for the nomination of candidates for aldermen and members of the county board of supervisors.

An alderman is to be elected from each of the six wards for terms of two years each. The offices that become vacant this year are those of L. O. Hansen, first ward; William Eggert, second ward; C. F. Smith, third ward; R. F. McGilgan, fourth ward; Charles Fose, fifth ward; H. R. Beske, sixth ward.

The incumbent county supervisors are L. F. Bushey, first ward; P. H. Ryan, second ward; Joseph Bayer, third ward; John Tracy, fourth ward; Peter Rademacher, fifth ward; Louis Stens, sixth ward.

Aldermen will assume office on the third Tuesday in April, or Apr. 21. The supervisors will take their seats on the county board in the April session.

VILLAGES ELECT

Alderman and supervisor elections will also be held in other cities of the county. Villages will elect a president, a clerk, a treasurer, an assessor, a county supervisor, a marshal, a justice of peace, besides members of the village board of trustees. The last mentioned hold office for two years, but all others for one year. Towns will elect a chairman besides two other supervisors, a clerk, a treasurer, an assessor, a constable and a justice of the peace, all for terms of one year. The town chairman will also serve as county supervisor.

There will be no special registration day, since this is held only every two years. Newcomers and young people who have attained their majority on primary election day, their primary being in itself a registration day.

Circulation of nomination papers may be begun at this time. The papers must be filed at least 15 days prior to primary election day. The last day would be Mar. 8. Papers for any city office must be signed by voters equal in number to 2 per cent of those who voted for the candidate receiving the highest number of votes for such office at the last preceding election.

WANT TO FORM WALTON LEAGUE IN APPLETON

Publicity matter received from the Isaac Walton League of America states that petitions for a charter of that organization in this city have been sent to R. G. Sykes, 773 College ave., to be filled out. The Walton league is a national body of sportsmen who are fighting the "game hog" and the stream polluters and are conducting an educational campaign among sportsmen of all classes to prevent the useless slaughter of game and fish and careless burning of forests.

PRaise FOX'S WORK AS ARCHEOLOGIST

Former Appleton Mail Carrier Makes Valuable Investigations

George R. Fox, former Appleton resident, has played a prominent part in archeological research work in Michigan. Mr. Fox, who is curator of the Warren Foundation historical museum at Three Oaks, organized the Michigan Archeological society a year ago with the help of Dr. H. R. Hinsdale, curator of the University of Michigan museum, and the society has made rapid progress both as to membership and work.

In an article which appeared two weeks ago in a Kalamazoo newspaper considerable space was devoted to the work of Mr. Fox in Michigan. The remains of primitive man in the state are being located and valuable data are being collected. A map is being completed which will show county by county all the cities of Indian towns, burial places, mounds and trails.

Mr. Fox has made a deep study in the field of archeology and anthropology. He was born in Long Island, Kan., and lived in Appleton for a few years during which time he was a mail carrier. Before going to Three Oaks he was curator of the Nebraska Historical museum. The museum at Three Oaks has under his direction grown from a collection of 3,500 articles to 43,716 exhibits in three buildings. He is an energetic student and covers in one year more studies than the average college student does in several. In addition to his museum work and lectures in various cities, he also spends some time writing articles pertaining to his profession and also short stories. His novel, "The Fangs of the Serpent," a detective mystery story, is to be found in the Appleton public library.

Federal Income Tax

The basis for computing the amount deductible on account of depreciation and obsolescence upon property, acquired after February 28, 1913, is, in general, the cost of such property. In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, the basis is the cost of the property or its fair market value as of that date, whichever is greater. To compute the amount of depreciation which may be claimed, the taxpayer should determine the probable life of the property, then divide by the number of years it will be useful in the business in which employed. The result thus obtained will represent the amount which may be claimed as a deduction. For example, a frame building, the probable lifetime of which is 25 years, cost $10,000. Divide $10,000 by 25 and claim $400 each year as a deduction.

If a taxpayer claims the full amount of depreciation he can not claim as a deduction the cost of repairs to the property during the term means repairs in the nature of same year. "Repairs" in this connection means to the extent that they arrest deterioration, such as a new flooring or roof.

When, in the course of years, the owner of the property has claimed its full cost, no further claim for depreciation will be allowed.

Deductions for depreciation must be made as a separate item of the taxpayer's return, and must be explained by showing separately each class of property, its cost, estimated life, depreciation charged off for the taxable year and total depreciation charged off for all taxable years.

HIRAM FIRES

Hiram Johnson is tearing his hair over the Paris settlement. He made a speech of 1919 in the senate this week. He laid before the sages and patriots of that honorable body all the arguments that were employed to discredit Woodrow Wilson's administration, and then some. He drew a picture of the unutterable calamity that is to descend on the United States as a result of its involvement in the affairs of Europe under the Paris settlement.

In vain does the secretary of state assure the sun-kist senator that the debt arrangement is a plain, common-sense piece of business which any nation in its right mind would subscribe to under similar circumstances, that there is no entanglement unless we later choose to become entangled, and that the method employed was the only one that could be used to secure our claims against Germany.

We sometimes wonder whether men like Mr. Johnson, who have opposed every move of the United States to bring order out of chaos in Europe and to assist in reparations accord, really are concerned about the perils of offering such service, or whether what they have in mind is frustration of the allies' attempts to make Germany pay an indemnity. Is it possible that the reason they denounce and oppose every effective move to make Germany pay is because they wish to see Germany escape her obligations? We are beginning to be suspicious that their heart-jangs are not so much over fears for their native land as their sympathy for Germany. The same explanation we imagine would apply to the scheme to force recognition of Russia on this country. It is cheap sentimentalism for another country rather than high regard for American interests.

WILL JUSTICE PREVAIL?

Legal cunning which has been seeking a whitewash for Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans' bureau, and John W. Thompson, St. Louis contractor, who conspired to rob the government, and which failed to prevent a verdict of guilty and a sentence of two years at Leavenworth, is now being employed to defeat justice through some technicality. There can be no doubt that these men were guilty and that they received their just desert at the hands of the jury and court. If anything they got off easier than their offense merited.

The people, however, have become so used to seeing justice frustrated at some state of its precarious progress that they will not be surprised if the prison doors never close on these criminals. The scandal in the Veterans' bureau was one of the worst following the war, and these men ought to be punished, and punished severely, for their participation in it.

The judgment of the court of appeals will be awaited with national interest, and it is to be hoped this court will rule out extraneous matters too often invoked for the escape of the guilty and consider the case on its plain merits. If that is done the defendants will serve their sentences.

THE LAST STAND

Bluff and bluster are making their last stand at Washington to legalize the theft of lake water by Chicago. Senator McCormick, whose opinion of himself was always larger than that of his constituents and who is about to retire to private life, is firing off the last skyrocket of his public career in behalf of Chicago's steal. He has got so far as to have a special committee report favorably a recommendation that the diversion of 10,000 cubic feet of water per second be legalized by congressional enactment, but we think this will be the end of his rope. It certainly will be if the states which stand to suffer by Chicago's aggrandizement and selfishness are up and coming.

We have no idea that congress is disposed to put its seal of approval on a plain violation of national interests, as well as the rights of a neighboring country. The more this case is aired the worse the light in which it places Chicago. But Chicago is so accustomed to highway robberies within its own limits that it thinks it can hold up whole states and the nation itself with a formidable looking but unloaded gun.

GREECE AND TURKEY

Greece will hardly fight another war with victorious Turkey over the expulsion of the new Greek patriarch from Constantinople. That would be a Greek tragedy. There would be no England backing Athens this time; for Europe as a whole has come to the conclusion that although the Greek-Turkish situation is settled badly, nevertheless it is settled.

A treaty has been signed by which one of the most pitiful mistreatments of large masses of human beings in all history has taken place—the exchange of Turks in Greece and Greeks in Turkey. An exception was made of Greeks in Constantinople who came there before 1918. The newly elected patriarch did not come to the city of the Dardanelles until after that date and consequently the Turks informed him that he was liable to expulsion.

Legally he is: in abstract justice and decency he is not. His forcible removal and the announcement that other Greek priests and prelates are to suffer a like humiliation constitute what is on the face of matters an outrage. The only excuse the Turks are able to offer is the weak one that certain Greek churchmen in the past have used their positions politically. Under the new situation in Turkey such church agitation would of course be hopeless. And a patriarch elected from among Greeks dating their Constantinople residence before 1918 would surely meet the same objections as one arriving later.

That Greece should be exasperated by this typical piece of Turkish tyranny is not surprising; but, like the other solutions contained in the treaty of Lausanne, it is preferable to war. Interminable conflict, rebellion and massacre were the only alternatives to the exchange of alien populations. The world will not approve nor give its support to the spilling of more blood in the near east, even in the name of Greek religious dignity.

NEWS, LIFE, DEATH

If Floyd Collins had been killed by the boulder which fell upon him in Sand cave, Kentucky, his epitaph would have been a local story and two lines "on the wire." Death is common and inevitable: it has only a relative news value, according to the strangeness of the medium which brought it or the importance of the victim. Floyd was not very important.

As it is, this unknown Kentuckian has made the front page of every newspaper in the United States for five days. The boulder missed him. It imprisoned, though apparently without injury, one of his feet. It gave the world an opportunity to sympathize, to advise, to criticize, to hope. By a matter of inches Floyd's death notice was transformed into a human interest story.

Nome's diphtheria epidemic, if Nome had taken it as philosophically as China, would not have caused much more than a ripple if it had killed off all the cases and run its course. This is a big country and epidemics, unfortunately, are still nothing to marvel at. But Nome used the telegraph, brought bottled science on dog sleds to its rescue, and made of itself a news story. A nation strained with the flying huskies, thrilled to the rescue and pulled out its copies of Service.

Human life, however insignificant, is news when threatened—a crescendo of news as peril and safety race. Death is news only for the company it keeps. News is a constructive, a building, a hopeful and a human element. It can use what is past only as it provides building material for the future.

Today is what we were all looking forward to yesterday.

HAVE YOU ENOUGH GALL?

What causes an excess of bile? Inquires a reader who is probably affected that way. Second, is the liver under or overacting? Third, should a person abstain from all fruits (uncooked) and fried foods in such a case? And then this reader with so much gall defaults by forgetting to sign his letter, and so I suppose he really has too much bile or something like that if he imagines I ever pay serious attention to such communications.

Most of us secrete about a pint and a half of bile a day, when we are in fine fettle. The bile is of a dark olive or yellow or green color, depending on the character of the diet and how dead the subject examined. Herbivores have bright green bile; carnivores a golden yellow bile. The bile is alkaline, and yet it contains acids. I mention this not as of importance in itself but because it may help to confuse folks who are too much concerned about the acidity of their diet, blood or something. The bile acids keep the cholesterol dissolved and they facilitate the digestion and absorption of fats in the intestine.

The secretion of bile from the blood by the liver varies with the blood flow through the liver, and that is about the only way in which the secretion of bile can be even slightly influenced. By increasing or diminishing the flow of blood through the liver. Although certain drugs or other medicinal substances are called "chologogues," which means to increase the flow of bile, the remedies so classed have no appreciable influence on the bile secretion. The bile acids themselves are about the most active stimulants to the secretion of bile and are sometimes administered medicinally with that purpose.

The acid of the digesting stomach, when the chyme reaches the duodenum, into which the bile empties, is also a normal stimulant to the secretion of bile, but this is merely a part of digestion.

The bile is secreted almost constantly, but it is injected into the duodenum periodically during the time of digestion. Between periods of digestion the common bile duct, which conveys the bile to the duodenum, is kept closed by a little purse string muscle arrangement. The bile then backs up into the reservoir known as the gall sac which lies just under the border of the liver a hand west of one's geographic center, at the blind end of a spur off the main bile tract. The gall sac holds it as long as the stomach remains empty; but when one takes a meal, which starts the acid secretion in the stomach, it is a matter of minutes before some of the acid chyme passes to the duodenum, and the little sphincter relaxes and the gall sac squirts its load of bile into the duodenum.

Normally, of course no bile will back up into the stomach, but if vomiting is repeated, irrespective of the cause, some bile is likely to appear. It is a childish conclusion that such an occurrence indicates a "biliary attack" or in any way incapacitates the liver or its function.

There is no such condition as "insufficient bile." There is no such condition as "excess of bile." But there are many conditions which may interfere with the ejection of the bile from the liver and gall sac into the duodenum, for example, a gall stone in the common duct.

The gall sac is a busy little structure but of no essential importance. The bile ducts readily perform its work, and no ill effect whatever occurs from the removal of the structure when it gives trouble.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Does boiling injure the nutritive value of milk in any respect? My 9 year old sister, a nervous child, takes a quart of milk a day. I drink it boiled, as a safeguard against tuberculosis germs or any other disease bacteria which may get into milk. She wants hers raw, and objects to drinking the boiled milk. We live half a mile from a herd of Shorthorn cattle and can get the milk immediately after milking. Please advise. (T. J.)

Answer.—Boiling does not diminish the caloric value, but it does impair the vitamin value of the milk, and although I can cite no definite authority for my belief, still I believe boiling produces other pronounced changes of an undesirable kind—the partial decomposition of the proteins, diminution of the organic phosphorus, precipitation of part of the calcium salts, and disarrangement of the milk emulsion. If the cows from which the milk is drawn have been tuberculin tested, let your sister come have the milk raw. Pasteurization would destroy any tubercle bacilli or other disease germs in the milk yet not cause such profound changes otherwise. Milk is pasteurized by heating it to 145 degrees F., holding at that temperature 20 to 30 minutes, then cooling. Even pasteurization diminishes the vitamin value of milk.

ROLLO

Saturday Sermon

"The following sermon entitled "The Voice of Jesus" was prepared especially for the Post-Crescent by the Rev. E. P. Nass (pastor of First Reformed church.)

And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying: "This is my beloved Son, hear ye him." Luke 9:35.

Jesus with three of his disciples went up into a mountain, one day, to pray. While he prayed his disciples fell asleep. What a picture! Jesus praying, the disciples sleeping! Isn't this still true today Jesus, our blessed Master, is still praying while we are sleeping. Christ is watching over us while we are all unconscious of danger. Perhaps you have all seen the painting of the little child, happily darting about, picking flowers on top of a high cliff. The child is so absorbed in the beauty of the flowers as to be entirely unconscious of its danger; that it might at any moment slip, fall over the precipice and be dashed to pieces below. Yet unseen and unknown to the child the guardian angel is standing on top of the precipice holding out his hand to guard the child from danger. Perhaps you have also seen that other painting of a child crossing a stream on a narrow log, too young to realize that he might be plunged headlong into the raging torrent. Again the guardian angel follows him, holding out one hand on either side of him, to keep him safe.

"The pathway of life may well be compared to such a narrow log path leading across raging torrents and over steep precipitous cliffs. One little misstep and we are plunged headlong into the raging torrents of sin and destruction. O many a one has already in an unguarded moment, made a little slip, taken a little misstep, that brought sorrow, shame and ruin for the rest of life. Jesus praying, we his disciples sleeping! What a solemn thought! How can we be so thoughtless, careless and forgetful of our Master's warning: "Watch therefore and pray; lest ye fall into temptation, when we know full well that the pathway of life is a narrow, steep way, beset by so many dangers; when we know and see how many other boys have already become enmeshed in the snares of the enemy along this road, and have fallen mortally wounded by the wayside! Jesus praying, we his followers sleeping! But also, What a blessed thought! We are all human. Even the best, most earnest and faithful among us, will at times become forgetful, negligent, and expose ourselves to the fiery, poisonous darts of the enemy. Yet even when we do happen to fall asleep, as did the disciples on the mount, Jesus our faithful Savior, keeps awake, standing guard over us, praying for us. Should we not therefore, all the more gladly and willingly hear Him: attentively listen to His words of counsel and advice?

NEED BUT TO HEAR.

Under whatever circumstances we may find ourselves, our kind and blessed Master is ever near us, with just the proper word, if we but choose to hear Him. Let us listen to just a few of the many clear, ringing Gospel voices of Jesus.

In John 14:8 and Matthew 23:9 we hear our Master's voice: "Follow me in these days of strife and perplexity. You so much need leaders who are true; men of character who put truth and honor above greed and gold. In our social state, we are all so much dependent upon leaders in both church and state. Very few of us, or are allowed to do our own choosing, planning, even thinking, unless we choose to do and plan as our leaders decree. Perhaps nine-tenths of all we do or refrain from doing, is because someone else has decreed it so. Yet how often do these men whom we choose and elect to guide, lead and govern us, betray our trust. For personal gain they choose to mislead and misgovern us. Under the most flourish promises the various politicians appeal to us, "Follow me," and I will lead you to peace, prosperity and happiness. Too often, after we have elected them and placed our confidence and trust in them, they foolishly betray our trust.

Not so the Master. With a calm, assured voice of authority, He calls us to follow Him. There is no hesitancy in His voice, no need of falling back upon any higher power, no need of any argument.

MUST SHARE WITH OTHERS.

In Luke 19:13, we hear our Master's voice, "Occupy till I come." All of us have received various talents to be invested and used in the Master's service during His absence. As servants of Jesus each one has some task to fill his days; some position of responsibility, the faithful discharge of which will require the exerting of all his powers. The Master has given us a voice to be used for singing and speaking in His service. Telling to others the glad and wonderful Gospel story; to cheer the sad, comfort the discouraged. He has given us hands to work to help the weary, the blind and the helpless. He has given us food to share with the hungry; clothing to clothe the naked. He has given us money to help spread His gospel, uphold His church and kingdom on earth. Only in the proper, unselfish use of all these talents, shall we find our true happiness and joy.

In Matthew 11:29, we hear our teacher's voice, "Learn of me." Man cannot successfully accomplish his task alone. The greatest and wisest as much as the unlearned, needs spiritual instruction, guidance and advice if he would find and keep walking upon the way of life to salvation. In Revelation 3:20, we hear our friend's voice, "Open to me, Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." Jesus is standing at the door of your heart knocking. A knock is a call to open the door which is locked. If you will take a close look at Holman Holt's famous picture, you will notice the Christ standing before a closed door, knocking for admittance. The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederick J. Franklin, Director, Washington, D. C. This office applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Give your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Is the Budget Bureau Included in any Department? E. V. M.

A. The Bureau of the Budget was created by an act approved June 10, 1921. It is in the Treasury Department but not under the direct jurisdiction of that department. The Bureau is under the immediate direction of the President.

Q. What is the model for the sword carried by marines? J. S.

A. The present sword of the Marine Corps is modeled after a sword used by Alexander the Great, and is known as the Mameluke type of sword. It was carried by marines from April 26, 1825 to 1859. The Mameluke sword was re-adapted under regulations, May 1875.

Q. Does the south magnetic pole attract a compass needle? T. P. R.

A. While the north magnetic pole attracts the north end of the needle, the south end of the needle repels the north end and attracts the south end. This is true no matter in what part of the earth the needle is placed, and there is no reversal of the needle when the magnetic equator is crossed.

Q. Is it improper to eat the lettuce upon which a salad is served? C. E. E.

A. Inclination may guide a person. The lettuce may be eaten if one chooses.

Q. Is Maud Adams married? Where does she live? W. J. Z.

A. Maud Adams is at Roukonkama, L. I. She has a laboratory of her own where she is working constantly upon improvements for motion picture photography. She is not married.

Q. I have received my adjusted compensation certificate, face value $799. Will I get interest on this at the end of twenty years? H. B. W.

A. The face value of the Adjusted Service Certificate which you have received includes the four per cent interest paid annually. At the end of 20 years you will receive the face value of this certificate.

Q. What is chaulmoogra oil? E. H. B.

A. There is a tree in Siam and the Orient which is called the Chaulmoogra tree. For centuries the oil from the seed of this tree has been considered valuable for the treatment of leprosy. A few years ago "Ethyl ester" was made from the oil which is given hypodermically. This method was found to yield better results.

Q. When was lace first made? E. E. B.

A. Lace was first made in the 16th century. Before that time the term lace described such articles as cords, narrow braids of plaited and twisted threads, used not only to fasten shoes, sleeves and corsets together, but also in a decorative manner to braid the hair and to wind around hats. Later it was used as a trimming for costumes.

Institute For Sunday Class Workers Here

Appleton churches will have a one-night institute for Sunday school workers on Friday, Feb. 13, in the Methodist Episcopal church, under the direction of J. L. Rogers of Oshkosh, secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Religious Education. The program will include a supper, devotional period, addresses and two conferences, one for workers with children under 12 years and one on young people's work and church school administration.

A mixer will take place at 6 o'clock in order to stimulate fellowship among the workers of the various churches. Supper will be served at 6:30, a devotional period will be held at 7:15, and at 7:30 and 8 o'clock there will be two addresses, one by Miss Edith M. Town and the other by Mr. Rogers.

This is to be followed by the two conferences. The one for workers with children under 12 years will be conducted by Miss Town, while Mr. Rogers will have charge of the other group.

FEAR COLD WAVE WILL DAMAGE BARE FIELDS

While motorists are rejoicing over the extended privileges of autotizing this season, farmers have been thrown into a state of perplexity by the semi-freezing and winter weather.

The snow has practically disappeared from the fields and left the winter grain exposed. A sudden fall in the temperature without a previous snowfall might have seriously damaging effects on the grain, it is feared.

Concrete roads are a boon this winter, but the side roads of dirt are beginning to take on the appearance of road conditions in spring. Muddy ruts are being worn in the roads in some places, and in a few sections they are about to become dusty unless there is a fall of snow or rain. A few farmers still are using sleds on the side roads, although the sleighing is poor.

Open House Program
Three reels of motion pictures will be shown at the regular open house program of the mens division of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening. The titles of the films are "Horses and Horsemanship," "The Real Roosevelt" and "The Old Oaken Bucket." The pictures will be followed by the popular community sing. The meeting is open to the public.

Grip Left You All Run Down?

BACK lame and achy? Sharp pains stab you at every sudden move? Nerves "all unstrung?"

Then look to your kidneys! Winter, you know, is danger time for the kidneys. That's because grip, colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys and allow body poisons to upset the whole bodily machinery. Then is apt to come lameness, soreness and stiffness; constant backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and irregular or painful passage of the kidney secretions.

Don't risk serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills before it is too late. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Here is Appleton Proof:

Emil Baerenwald, retired farmer, 1206 N. Lawe St., says: "My back ached and pained so badly that when I stooped I couldn't straighten. Sharp pains caught me like a knife. My kidneys were out of order and mornings my back was lame and stiff. Doan's Pills removed the backache and I haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Sunday-- of All Days---

SUNDAY—of all the days in the week is one day that you want something more than a common meal. You want a dinner—a SUNDAY Dinner—a dinner complete with olives and celery, good soup, tender chicken, a sherbet, a juicy pie with a real crisp, flaky crust, or ice cream to finish off a perfect meal...

And then you want to sit down and be lazy and think happily of what a nice occupation eating really can be.

The many people who come to the Hotel Northern for our Dollar Sunday Dinners are ample proof that people do know a good meal when they taste it. They like to eat where they can be satisfied....and so they come to the Hotel Northern where they get home cooking in home-like surroundings.

Tomorrow is Sunday. You will want a satisfying meal. You'll get it at the Northern.

KAUKAUNA COMES BACK IN SPURT TO WIN FROM DE PERE

Last Period Rally Gives Electric City Team a 13 to 11 Win

Kaukauna—More than 500 cheering fans saw Kaukauna high school basketball team stage a comeback in the second period and nose out West DePere high, 13 to 11, Friday evening in one of the best games ever played on the local floor. Both teams played whitewind basketball. DePere got the edge on the locals early in the fracas and at the end of the first half the visitors were in the lead, 10 to 3.

Each team presented a strong defense and although the Kaukauna lads seemed able to break through more frequently, they were unable to come close to the hoop. Rather poor guarding in the first period gave the visitors a chance to sink in three field goals and short shots.

DePere fouled to start the second half and Miller scored a point on the free throw. Other fouls followed and "Midget" Miller counted five free throws in succession. A field goal a short time later made the score 9 to 10 in favor of the visitors.

FINE KILGAS WORK

If the Orange and Black was handicapped because of injured players, the team's playing didn't show it. The boys showed some of the prettiest team work ever seen here and had the invaders guessing during practically all of the last quarter.

Throughout the game and especially during the last period DePere relied on long shots. The low ceiling of the auditorium, however, made it difficult to throw the ball a great distance.

In a fast preliminary game the high school girls' team downed the Outagamie Rural Normal school squad by a score of 5 to 3 in an overtime contest. The girls put up a fast game and displayed good teamwork but their inability to shoot kept the score from piling up.

The crowd was estimated the largest ever packed into the hall for a basketball game. The total receipts amounted to more than $74. The confidence of the girls in the ticket selling campaign failed to bring results and the boys won the contest. When the final checkup was made the boys had turned in $25.85 for tickets while the girls' sales amounted to $28.40.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The G. G. G. club held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Netekoven, 412 Park-st. Prizes were awarded to Miss Martha VanAbie and Miss Genevieve DeBrue. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Helen Ryan.

The DeMolay degree was conferred upon two candidates at a special meeting of the Electric City chapter, Order of DeMolay, Friday evening in Masonic hall. Plans were started to give a social in February. A number of Masons attended the meeting.

METHODIST CHURCH WILL HAVE LINCOLN SERVICE

Kaukauna—A special Abraham Lincoln service will be conducted Sunday evening in Brokaw Methodist church. The public is invited. Special selections will be rendered by the male chorus. "America's Most Conspicuous Patriot" is the title of an address to be given by the pastor, Rev. W. P. Hulén.

The male chorus is composed of: D. Towles and Samuel Anderson, first tenors; William Woolz and W. J. Hulén, second tenors; D. J. Kille and Owen Kille, first bass; W. F. Ash, second bass. Among the selections to be rendered by the chorus are "Lord of the Nations," "O Beautiful for Spacious Skies," "Speed the Grapel Call."

CLINTONVILLE IS DEFEATED, 18-5 IN H. S. BATTLE

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—New London high school basketball quintet swamped Clintonville high school in Knights of Columbus hall here Friday night, by a score of 18 to 5. The Red and White squad completely outclassed the Clintonville quintet, which had beaten it at Clintonville earlier in the season. Seldons was the hall near Clintonville's basket. "and the Red and White seemed to score at will throughout the game."

Ladwig, Red and White center was New London's star performer, making four baskets. Jillion, right forward, followed with three baskets and two free throws, and Huntley, at guard, tallied one basket, making up New London's eighteen points.

Seander, first Clintonville midgest forward, starred for that city, and made most of Clintonville's scores. The first quarter of the game, which was a whitewind from start to finish, ended at 2 to 6 in favor of New London, the half at 6 to 0 in favor of the same city, the third period at 10 to 3 and the game ending at 18 to 5 for the Red and White quintet. Roach of Clintonville, referred.

H. S. PLAYS WILL HONOR BIRTHDAYS OF PATRIOTS

New London—History classes of the local high school are contemplating the giving of a characteristic play or pageant, to the high school assembly in order to celebrate both Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. If the idea is adopted, the first will probably be given next Thursday, and the second on the school day before following Washington's birthday anniversary. The various members of the classes have been asked to league together and furnish suggestions for a short play or pageant to characterize these two great men of the United States.

RUEGG'S SUBJECT IS POTSDAM TO JERUSALEM

Special to Post-Crescent

Meeting Will Be Held Monday Evening—Mossie Lucy Pays His Liquor Fine

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—The annual get-together dinner of father and sons will be held in the parlors of the Methodist church at 8:30 Monday evening, Feb. 9. A program of speeches and community singing is to be presented. S. F. Shattuck of Neenah, is to be the principal speaker of the evening. Judge William Martin will speak in the interest of the boy scout movement. There will be a word from a dad and a response by a boy. Tickets were on sale Friday and Saturday at Cristy's, Hannon jewelry store and with George Baker. Special recognition will be given the father having the youngest, the oldest and the largest number of sons present. C. P. Stanley is to be the song leader.

On Thursday several of the city officials and the city engineer of Clintonville met in Waupaca with Highway Commissioner Huffcut and the highway committee in regard to the cost of paving two streets in the city of Clintonville during the coming season.

Mr. Huffcut, A. B. Jorgenson and Richard Schoepke of Bear Creek, and S. M. Myhr of Iowa, all members of the highway commission and Martin Finch, a highway patrolman, will go to Madison Monday to attend the annual state ward school in session there from Feb. 9 to 13.

Mossie Lucy, convicted on the charge of illegal possession of liquor on Monday in circuit court and given the alternative of six months in the county jail or $400 fine with costs, elected to pay the fine, which amounted to $550 with the costs. Court adjourned on Wednesday until the regular spring term.

Mrs. Ethel Hanson is substituting for Miss Putnam in the sixth grade. The latter was called to Sparta on account of the death of a brother.

The schedule of the Monday Night club calls for a program by Mrs. H. R. Roberts, who will present "Glory of the Morning," a dramatic reading at the next regular meeting Monday, Feb. 9, at the clubrooms in the library building. The music will be by Misses Helen Sill and Anne Suhs. The cast is as follows: Glory of the Morning, Miss Peale Chamberlain; the cavalier, Mrs. C. Gmeliner; Black Wolf, Mrs. F. W. Lukes; Red Wing, Miss Adeline Carpenter; Oak Leaf, Miss Marian Sill. Club members may each bring one guest.

SKATING TONITE AND SUNDAY — ARMORY G

Scene from D. W. GRIFFITH'S "ISN'T LIFE WONDERFUL" AT FISCHER'S APPLETON THEATRE BEGINNING TUESDAY.

British Army, brother officer of the Prince of Wales, more or less constant wanderer over the Continent of Europe, and latest literary idol of England, has discovered that liverwurst and potatoes may be very close indeed to love.

For his story, "Isn't Life Wonderful," which D. W. Griffith has used for his latest film—a departure from all previous types of photoplays, which comes to the Appleton Theatre on Tuesday proves that love may thrive mightily on such humble fare, and that potatoes may be pregnant with pathos.

Indeed liverwurst plays a very live role as fairy godmother in the new Griffith film and a few sacks of lowly "spuds" figure as the real villains of this most unusual of films. "Isn't Life Wonderful" is one of the simplest little love stories ever shown on a screen, and because of its simplicity, required very different handling from the usual photoplay. In filming it, Griffith freed himself entirely from the elaborate technique which he built up and used so extensively in his previous productions. Every directorial trick he had contributed to the motion picture world was tossed into the discard. Even the beloved closeup was ruled down to a skeleton form. Liverwurst and potatoes don't lend themselves to closeups, and the simple love story of "Isn't Life Wonderful" needs no reverberations.

And—mirabile dictu—the comedy (and there is lots of it, the whole picture being in fact an idyllic comedy), is told by the action and not by subtitles.

"THE BEAUTY PRIZE" NEXT
"The Beauty Prize," Viola Dana's latest picture for Metro-Goldwyn, is the attraction at the Elite Theater Sunday. It is a screen version of Nina Wilcox Putnam's Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, and tells how a little manicurist wins the national beauty title, "Miss America."

ANNA Q. NILSSON GOT FILM START AS MODEL
Anna Q. Nilsson and Lewis S. Stone, stars of "Inez From Hollywood," the First National picture at the Elite Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday had very different careers before reaching their present popularity as stars of the cinema. Stone started on the stage and made an enviable New York reputation as leading man with such stars as Charlotte Walker, Marjorie Ransau and others before doing any work in pictures.

TREMENDOUS LOVE STORY IN "THE WHITE ROSE" DELICATELY AND BEAUTIFULLY TOLD
"The White Rose," a United Artists release at the New Bijou theater, Monday and Tuesday, is possibly one of the most forceful and beautiful things Mr. Griffith has attempted in his long and noteworthy career. He surely knows the land which he pictures and he is familiar with its traditions and shortcomings.

To make this story doubly affective

BABSON PREDICTS BETTER DAYS FOR ATLANTIC STATES

Statistician's Observations Indicate Depression Has Passed Over

Babson Park, Fla. — Roger W. Babson today made public the first section of his annual survey of business conditions. His findings are unusually interesting because they are based on recent first hand analysis plus the unbiased reports of trained correspondents. A summary of the first section of this annual survey covering New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia is as follows: "Although these northern thirteen states are not the exact original thirteen states which made up the first United States of America," says the statistician, "yet they might be classified as the '13 original industrial states.' They are oldest in business experience, habits and traditions. This is, of course, a distinct asset. Other sections may have greater material wealth, and larger populations; but never should other sections excel these thirteen states in the wealth of experience and judgment. Such as sets only time can develop. As these states were the first to start they always can maintain their lead in these qualities if they will do so. When considering the real assets of these North Atlantic States, I do not stress the natural resources or material wealth generally considered but rather emphasize those fundamental qualities of integrity, thrift, and judgment which are fully as valuable. These qualities provided the capital which built the railroads toward the Pacific; erected the cities of the West; and developed the farms, mines and forests of America. "Owing first to water power and later to coal, iron and other natural resources, these states are primarily industrial. Four-fifths of the merchandise manufactured in the forty-eight states is made in these thirteen. New England leads in shoes and textiles; New York State in machinery and clothing; Pennsylvania in steel and iron; the other states in other lines. This fact, however, makes these states very sensitive to general business conditions throughout the country. They make more money in good times than the agricultural states of the west and south; but they suffer much more in bad times. Owing to the general depression of the past two or three years these thirteen states—especially the New England group—have had poor years. Fundamental conditions now indicate, however, that these states have seen their worst. Better conditions are ahead. A brief summary of the present situation follows:

Maine
"Little change in industrial conditions has thus far occurred. Part-time schedules still prevail in the textile and shoe plants and there is a surplus of these workers apparent. In certain sections some of the woolen mills are working on overtime schedules; but paper and pulp mills are operating on reduced schedules. Building operations and highway construction continue active and afford employment to a large number of men. Farm-labor situation is reported satisfactory.

New Hampshire
"Conditions remain about the same although there has been a slight slackening in the shoe industry and in some sections of the state part-time still prevails in these plants. Printing, woolen and wire-cable industries are, however, now working on overtime schedules. The clear industry is described as excellent. Lumber mills and machine shops are operating with reduced forces. Building operations afford employment to a large number of men. Supply of farm labor reported as about equal to the demand.

Vermont
"Practically all plants are operating, but never at textile mills, machine shops, and woodworking plants are still on part-time schedules. Woolen mills in some sections of state are operating overtime. Railroad repair shops are still on a five-day-a-week schedule, and a slight

Massachusetts
"Industrial employment conditions show some improvement. The textile mills have increased operating time and added to their forces in certain sections of the state. Recent wage reductions of 10 per cent have helped the situation. The jewelry and granite industries are operating on normal basis. Metal plants have increased their working forces and a surplus of labor is well employed. Building activities and highway construction continue to give employment to a large number of craftsmen.

Rhode Island
"Employment shows a slight improvement. Practically all industries are operating, but the textile mills and metal trades are still on part-time schedules, and there is a surplus of these workers. Building construction is active throughout the state, providing employment for many tradesmen.

Connecticut
"General business shows a slight improvement. All plants are operating and in many cases the textile and silk industries are working full-time schedules. In certain sections the silverware industry has been working overtime. Building construction is active throughout the state, providing employment for a larger number of craftsmen.

New York
"An improvement in industrial employment is clearly evident in New York, particularly in the iron and steel mills, foundries, machinery plants, and several branches of the textile industry. Despite the large number of workers that have been absorbed in manufacturing plants and factories, there still remains a considerable amount of unemployment, chiefly unskilled labor. Employment in the railroad transportation lines, car repair and machine shops is moving upward, new orders having stimulated employment in the locomotive and boiler works and railroad equipment industries. Silk and woolen mills, tobacco and electrical equipment plants, chemical, and some metal trades show slight gains. The completion of a considerable amount of road building, also numerous construction jobs, is causing the release of a large number of unskilled workers but general building is still

Bank Reports Reveal Sharp Rise In Business Activity

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
New York—Business activity is on a rising scale and has reached a point higher than at any time since 1919. This statement is based on the volume of debits to individual accounts outside New York City. This does not mean that business is more profitable. It means that it is moving more energetically than at any time in five years.

This measure may be a deceptive one. But many important students of business accept it. And when we add to it the factor of rising prices it becomes fairly reliable.

The rising tide of gold exports, the soaring march of prices have all had their part in fixing the general tone of the week's business. But no one can examine the business situation without being impressed with the fact that so many of those lines that had been considered weak are being strengthened.

The copper situation is reviving, the automobile makers are finding themselves, the tire people are looking up, and the farmers, of course have collected a good dividend. Now the textile trade continues to move slowly toward comparative health.

COFFEE
This industry is in a better condition than at any time in seven years. Consumption has slowly crept up in production and the two, for the first time, in several years are fairly well balanced. The price has reached its highest point in 13 months. Now dealers here believe there may be a slight and easy drop, but no slump and a little later another strengthening.

LEGISLATION
The prospect now is for an adjournment of Congress with literally nothing done. Those who have been congratulating the country on an end of officious meddling by Government in business will have no complaint against the present Congress. It has not only meddled hardly at all in business but very little in Government.

OIL
Those who are interested in oil prices will find food for reflection in the prediction that oil consumption this year will exceed the 1924 total by 20 per cent. We had so-called over-production in 1924, yet notwithstanding that and the great stocks of oil in storage we see prices moving forward again and record high prices predicted for the summer. Apparently there is no real over-production—merely a flood of oil at one season in excess of immediate needs. In many quarters it is now confidently expected that consumption will increase heavily, that there is no oil flood in sight, that prices will continue to rise and that earnings of oil companies will improve sharply.

A LINE OF PROFITS
We heard much of tire companies' bad year. Yet one of the largest concerns—the Tirestone—that cut its prices from 20 to 30 per cent in 1924 had its most profitable year since 1920.

DEMAND FOR FARM GOODS
The Department of Agriculture declares that in the first half of the year the domestic demand for 1924 farm products will be maintained and will stimulate the demand for the better grades of farm goods. But it insists that the domestic demand for the 1925 crops will be no better than this domestic demand, if as good.

Pennsylvania
Employment gains are reported in the basic industries, principally iron and steel, textiles, metal and machinery, tobacco, mining equipment plants, electrical trades, and transportation lines. A number of idle mills are resuming operations and some of the larger plants are extending their working schedules. Operations on State highway and county road improvements are drawing to a close, with the result that many skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled employees are being released. Part of this labor will be absorbed in the major industries. Increased orders in the structural fabricating plants reflect the huge volume of building and construction projects under way and ready to start. Further evidence of increasing employment is the unprecedented railroad traffic. Repair shops are again on full time and railroad trainmen are being recalled. In other divisions of the transportation lines, such as maintenance of way, roundhouses, and railroad yards, workmen are more fully employed than they have been for some time. Industries manufacturing railroad equipment have sufficient orders on hand to operate at a normal basis with full forces for months ahead.

Maryland
"A small amount of unemployment is reported in several of the larger cities in this state. However, industrial activity is increasing slightly from month to month. Seasonal curtailment of such work as road construction, and in a certain extent of building programs, has affected a small number of laborers, chiefly unskilled workers.

Virginia
"Very little change has yet occurred in industrial conditions in this state. Practically all the major industries are operating on satisfactory schedules, with normal quotas of employees engaged. A small amount of employment is reported in some cities, but this is more or less expected at this time of the year. Building construction continues on a rather large scale.

West Virginia
"The general industrial situation in

MANY MONUMENTS TO ARTISTRY OF LOCAL ARCHITECTS

Smith and Brandt Have Erected Many Fine Buildings in Wisconsin

The best results for the amount of money expended, is the motto of Smith and Brandt, architects, whose Appleton office is in the Odd Fellow Building. The fine work and fair prices of this firm indicates that the motto is practiced as well as preached.

The firm is composed of George L. Smith, who is in charge of the Appleton office and Percy Brandt, who handles the work at Manitowoc. Mr. Smith has had twenty years of experience in his work. After the World War when his business became too large for one man to handle, Mr. Brandt joined him to start the present firm. Five expert draftsmen are employed by the company. Powell S. Hall, head draftsman of the Appleton branch, is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

The firm specializes in public buildings and schools. Schools at Oconto Falls, Hartford, Pulaski, Rhineland, Menasha, New London and several other Wisconsin cities were designed by Smith and Brandt. The beautiful Manitowoc teachers training school is their work and the $350,000 consolidated high and grade school at Insdiate, 7 miles north of Sturgeon Bay, known as the finest rural school in Wisconsin, is one of their products. This school is a completely equipped, thoroughly modern high and grade school and is one of the few fireproof rural schools of the country. The firm is working on plans for a new junior high school at Rhineland at the present time, which when it is completed will represent an investment of a half million dollars. The city of Rhineland is well pleased with the plans. Parochial schools at Brillion and Francis Creek were planned by Smith and Brandt.

The work of this firm is state wide and at times carries the members out of the state. Although they specialize in schools and public buildings, some of their finest pieces of work are done on residences and business blocks.

Several large mansions costing from $10,000 to $25,000 in Manitowoc and the beautiful home of Edward Hamilton of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., at Two Rivers were built from the plans of this firm. The Masonic temple at Manitowoc, which has been given much favorable comment is one of its products. The arrangement of the lodge rooms as prepared by their plans, has been given special notice. Replanning of the Episcopal church on the Oneida reservation and a church at Liberty of the members of the firm along this line.

The most recent work of the firm is shown in the garage of the Antigo Hardware Co., one of the finest in the state, both as to arrangement and appearance. Cost and size are two other considerations which make the planning of this building stand out. It is praised as the most beautiful building in Antigo and one of the most beautiful garages in the middle west, Chicago included.

This state continues to improve. There is a surplus of unutilized labor in some districts, largely due to the suspension of road building. The demand for miners in most of the coal fields is increasing and the large surplus of this class of help, which has been so apparent the last few months, is rapidly decreasing. With the increased movement of coal, rail shops are again operating on full-time schedules. Building continues fairly active, especially in the larger cities.

"The net result of these facts," concluded Mr. Babson, "is that conditions are slowly improving but that the improvement has thus far been slight in most lines. I, however, am optimistic for these states as to the next two years. If the Babsonchart of United States Business Conditions, which now stands at 7 per cent above normal, continues to hold up this figure these industrial states must prosper. This is especially true in view of the improved European situation."

You Can Not Afford to Be Without It

The Delco-Light Water System is simplicity itself. No belts—only one place to oil. It operates from any electric light socket or from a farm electric plant. No farm can afford to be without a Delco-Light Water System, and there are many city homes which need it. Price and terms will be gladly given without obligation.

START COMMUNITY FELLOWSHIP MOVEMENT HERE

Lucy Helen Pearson, Founder of Fellowship, Explains Organization

Community fellowship has been planted in Appleton. Whether it will germinate is a question to be decided by representatives or organizations in the city, who will meet within the coming week with Miss Lucy Helen Pearson, founder of community fellowship, a system whereby civic and social problems may be satisfied for all interests.

A few days ago all organizations received a letter from Miss Pearson asking that representatives be sent to a meeting at which community fellowship would be discussed. The meeting was held Friday night in the council chambers of the city hall and was well attended. City officials also were present. Mayor John Goodland presided and introduced Miss Pearson who presented her plan for a civic clearing house.

OPEN TO ALL GROUPS

All groups, even to the families which classify themselves as a group, have a right to send representatives to this council, according to the system. An executive committee and officers would be selected from this council. One group might have as many representatives as it wished, but each group would have only one vote. No distinctions are made, Miss Pearson, says, and organizations or groups may have as many representatives on the council as they wish.

POOL ALL FUNDS

Community fellowship is financed by pooling of public and private funds. As planned by Miss Pearson, funds would be raised through a large financial campaign in which all organizations would take part. This campaign would take the place of numerous drives held by the various organizations and all groups would be benefited. A paid director, under direct supervision of the executive committee, would be in charge of fellowship in the community.

City and federal officials would have a right on the council as well as all city and county organizations, including country granges. Fellowship only attempts to solve civic and social problems and does not enter into politics, Miss Pearson declared. There is no particular problem to be solved by the introduction of fellowship. It is a method by which the community may execute what it desires.

It was asked what benefits would be derived by this system. Miss Pearson answered that it would provide a list of all organizations in the city, a means of collaboration on civic problems, means of sponsoring community music and art, citizenship and an earnest consideration of pooling of private and civic funds.

What is the need of such an organization unless there are some specific problems to be solved was another question asked. The answer was that the council or committee would meet only when necessary and when such matters came up that would merit attention.

The meeting adjourned with the motion that all representatives present outline the plan before their organizations, and if the organizations were interested, they were to send to Miss Pearson the names of the persons who would represent them at a meeting Miss Pearson will call later.

RADIO PROGRAMS

The dinner concert from KDKA, starting at 5 o'clock Saturday evening puts the Westinghouse band on the air again. Following this program the Davis Male Quartet presents a fine program of popular songs. KYW again entertains the late listeners with the Congress classic from 9:30 to 11:30 and the Congress Carnival from 12 to 2. WCAP presents a program by the Roseland Garden's Nightingales at 11 o'clock and organ music from the World theater at 11:30. Dick Richardson's popular dance orchestra from WFAA at 8 o'clock.

Sunday evening will see WCAP, WCAP, WJAR, WEEI and WDBH in a joint program starting at 6:30. WCAP has been coming in especially good for fans of this vicinity lately. Feature artists of the Capitol theater with Roxy and his gang as the leaders and the Capital Garden orchestra direct from the theater stage will furnish the first part of the entertainment. The second part will be a special presentation by Roxy. Following the program from the Capitol theater WCAP, WJAR and WDBH will broadcast an hour of organ music from the Chapel of Columbia University where a beautiful Skinner organ is installed.

Charles Wakefield Cadman's latest choral work, The Sunset Trail, which had its world premiere only a few months ago, will be on the air from KDX Monday evening.

Dancing Sun, Nite, Brighton.

WHITE WITHDRAWS BILL TO COMPEL NAMES ON PEOPLES FORUM ARTICLES

Madison—"Vox Populi" and other time-honored nondequarres of anonymous contributors to the press may continue to hide their identity behind the mask of nomenclature camouflage in Wisconsin, pursuant to the withdrawal of a bill by Senator Merritt F. White of Winneconne in the state senate.

Senator White, in introducing the bill last week, claimed it was aimed to prevent newspaper contributors hiding behind fictitious names from criticizing persons in public office.

Announcement of the introduction of such a bill brought a storm of protest from newspaper editors in all parts of the state, Senator White said, and he believed it logical to withdraw the measure.

FIND STOLEN AUTOS PARKED ON PARK-AVE

Police Recover Two Machines Taken from in Front of Armory G

Recovery of two stolen cars on Park-ave Friday night seems to corroborate the theory that this street has been well named, for many stolen cars have after the joyride been "parked" on Park-ave.

Two cars, on a Buick 1925 model coupe driven by A. K. Ellis, Jr., 205 W. Prospect-ave, the other a Buick 1925 model sedan owned by Dr. William H. Towne of Shiocton, were stolen some time before 9:45 Friday night. They had been parked at Armory G, where the Beloit-Lawrence basketball game was in progress.

It apparently was a double joyride party, for both cars disappeared at the same time, from the same place, and later were abandoned at the same place.

Detective Matthew McGinnis and Officer Albert Delzen were sent in search for the missing cars, and in a short time they located them on N. Park-ave. In view of the fact that a number of cars have been stolen at other times and parked on the same street, police have found a hidden meaning in the name "Park-ave" and are considering the advisability of "parking" a policeman there permanently to act as a receiver for stolen cars and possibly also for car thieves.

SMALL POX SITUATION HERE MUCH IMPROVED

The small pox situation has again taken a more favorable trend following an alarming increase of cases about two weeks ago. The number of homes now under quarantine is as low as it has been since the start of the epidemic. There are at present only four homes placarded for the disease. The new cases have been reduced since Monday, whereas three homes were released from quarantine because of the absence of scarlet fever or diphtheria or other serious contagion, health department officials are again optimistic.

NIGHT COUGH QUICKLY RELIEVED

This is the substance of a letter received from H. W. Webb, Quincy, Ill. "I coughed a great deal, especially at night. Tried almost everything and have found nothing to equal FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. One dose relieved my cough and I rested well all night." One of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Insist upon Foley's. Refuse substitutes. Sold everywhere. adv.

Here Is Why Doorkeeper At Brokaw Hall Puts On Weight

Women say that the way to a heart of a man is through his stomach. College men rooming at Brokaw hall now say the same, and college men sometimes know what they are talking about.

A casual listener near the dormitory any night between 10 o'clock and midnight would wonder at the conversation issuing from the vicinity of the door. Appetizing vituals, concoctions fit to grace the table of a king, seem to be the gist of the conversation. This is what might be heard. "What on the menu tonight?" "Will a hot-dog, and eskimo pie, and a bottle of coco-cola be enough?" "Fine." Then there will be a swift hurry to the nearest confectioners, a equally swift return, and—admittance!

The secret is this. Doors to Brokaw Hall are closed at 10 o'clock, and anyone who lingers too long over gate of some town damsel finds himself locked out. But the door-keeper is not so hard-hearted as to see a friend keep out in the cold—not if the friend knows the right way of approaching him. That way is through the stomach.

At 10 o'clock there is a mad rush for the hall, but any student late can gain admittance. Just a few hot-dogs, or a pie will turn the trick. The door will quickly open, and no questions asked.

Nearby storekeepers wonder at the strange rush in trade from 11 to 12 o'clock. The doorkeeper at Brokaw knows, as do the late students, but they tell no tales. The ignorant wonder why he gets fatter every day.

COOLIDGE THINKS FARMING OFFERS BIGGEST PROBLEM

President Wants Hoover to Tackle Hardest Job in His Cabinet

BY HARRY R. HUNT
Washington.—President Coolidge's desire to transfer Secretary Hoover from the Commerce to the Agricultural Department though it might not seem so on the surface, is evidence that he considers Hoover the ablest man in his official family.

Normally, the secretaryship of the Department of Agriculture is considered a position of second rank in the cabinet.

It is a job for some "farmer," either actual or theoretical.

It never has been held to require the qualities of statesmanship supposed to be needed by the Department of State or the Treasury Department, for instance.

Yet in the judgment of the president the biggest problem now confronting the United States—bigger even than foreign affairs or taxation—has to do with the future of American agriculture.

And to tackle that problem he wants, as head of the Department of Agriculture, a man of the biggest possible caliber.

Hoover's four years at the head of the Department of Commerce, as well as his previous expert training in economic problems, are held to have fitted him especially for the particular need President Coolidge sees now in our agricultural affairs.

This need has to do with the commercial, or marketing side of agriculture, rather than with the problems of production.

It is the lack of the farmer's ability to market to advantage, not any lack of ability to produce, that is at the root of his troubles, Coolidge holds.

To develop a system and organization in the agricultural field that will eliminate present losses and wastes in distribution, giving the farmer a bigger share of the consumer's dollar, is, in brief, the job Coolidge has laid out for his next secretary of agriculture.

For this job Hoover seems qualified beyond anyone else now in sight.

ASK APPLETON'S IDEAS ON RURAL COOPERATION

Outagamie County's rural activities in which Appleton Chamber of Commerce has had a part will be made part of a survey which is being made by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The latter organization is making a nationwide investigation of the work done to cement rural and city relations and in helping the farmers to better conditions. These data will be sifted and the best ideas compiled for a bulletin.

The city farm meetings held during the summer and the annual chamber of commerce dinner for farmers are some of the things the local report describes. Copies of the bulletin will be requested by the chamber when it is completed so that the ideas used in other places may be given consideration here.

Information also is being sent to the chamber of commerce at Peru, Ind., concerning the municipal camp site at Albia park. The secretary at Peru had been told by a number of tourist parties that this city had an ideal haven for the camping automobilist.

The funeral director of today is as much a public servant as the doctor or the lawyer. His work is as much a public servant as the activities of the community.

It is fitting, therefore, that the funeral director should adapt himself to the needs of the community, and plan to settle permanently. We own our own establishment here, and are intensely interested in the growth and progress of Appleton.

CALLAHAN AND DOUDNA TALK TO VALLEY TEACHERS

State Educational Leaders Point Out Need for More Publicity for Schools

Menasha—In addressing Fox River Valley Schoolmasters club at its second meeting of the school year at Hotel Menasha Friday evening, John Callahan of Madison, state superintendent of schools, discussed the school systems and organizations of other states and how Wisconsin might profit by adopting some of the plans that are being worked out. He pointed out also some of the things other states have done that Wisconsin might avoid.

He showed the need for legislation providing for relieving overcrowded conditions in the state educational institutions and called attention to the need of revising some of the laws which tend more or less toward duplication. Mr. Callahan stated he was a charter member of Fox River Valley Schoolmasters club and said he was very glad of an opportunity to meet with members as it was seven years since he had attended a meeting.

G. E. Doudna of Madison, secretary of Wisconsin Teachers' association, was the first speaker. He touched lightly on educational bills before the legislature, stating that as yet there was not much of a trend toward a change. He spoke of the need for the highest type of educational publicity, showing that official reports should be presented in more understandable terms.

There are certain formulae which he said appear to be used in criticizing schools which he alluded to as "myths." In figuring the cost of education he showed in detail how the gross cost was invariably pointed out, while in fact much of the expense was taken care of through tuition, bonds and other forms of financing. The schools of today are not neglecting the fundamentals and more attention is being given to reading and arithmetic than ever before, he said. The schools are not Godless and wicked as some charge. He said education is the biggest business in America and does not receive its due share of publicity.

The meeting was attended by nearly 60 members representing all the cities of Fox river valley and was presided by a chicken dinner. Sept. O. H. Plenzke of Menasha, president of the club, presided.

MENASHA PERSONALS

Menasha—John Callahan, state superintendent of schools, and G. E. Doudna, secretary of the Wisconsin Teachers' association, who were the speakers at the meeting of Fox River Valley Schoolmasters club at Hotel Menasha Friday evening, returned to Madison Saturday.

Miss Clothilda Rueckl has gone to Waukegan, Ill., to spend the week-end with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith attended the funeral of Mrs. Emma Anderson, an aunt of the latter, at Oshkosh on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. August Brandt and Mrs. Edwin Selms have returned from a several days visit at Milwaukee.

A. C. Homan was at Milwaukee Thursday on business.

Maurice Exley has gone to Milwaukee, where he is to be employed in the department of neurology at Columbia hospital.

Chief of Police Calder of Merrill and McCarthy of Kaukauna, called on Chief of Police James Lyman on Thursday.

FOOD CLASS FOR MOTHERS WILL BE ORGANIZED MONDAY

Class Will Meet Twice Each Week to Teach Preparation of Food for Children

Menasha—A class in nutrition will be organized at the vocational school next Monday evening. It will be for the benefit of mothers of children of pre-school or school age and will be conducted by Miss Irene Stoltz, instructor in foods, who has had considerable experience in hospital dietician work.

The class will meet every Monday and Thursday evening. The instructions will include lectures, and demonstrations, and talks on child diseases by Miss Carolyn Schlattman, school nurse. The course will continue for several weeks.

The need of a class of this kind has been conceded by school authorities for some time, but it was not until the new school nurse took up her work that its urgency was realized. Quite a number of mothers have signified their intention of becoming members of the class.

MENASHA FROWNS ON ORGANIZED BASEBALL

Treasurer's Report Shows Deficit—Name Investigating Committee

Menasha—The consensus of opinion of Menasha Baseball association at its meeting at the city hall Friday evening favored independent instead of organized baseball the coming season unless a very satisfactory league could be organized. It was brought out that a number of clubs in the southern part of the state want the association to join their league.

The meeting was well attended. W. H. Pierce, president of the association, presided and stated the object of the meeting. The treasurer's report which showed a deficit was read and adopted.

A committee of three consisting of Harry Gossett, Paul Strange and Ed Hard Dornbrook to act with the president was appointed to look into the question, and report more fully as to the ways and means of clearing up the deficit, and as to playing independent or organized ball. An adjournment was taken until 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Feb. 15, at which reports will be submitted and officers elected.

BEGIN PREPARATIONS TO INSTALL CONCRETE FLOOR

Menasha—J. O. Fischer of Appleton, who was awarded the contract for new concrete floor in the city hall, has a crew of men at work tearing out the present wooden floor and will start excavation Monday. The first floor of the city hall is occupied by the fire department and the new floor is being put in at this time in anticipation of the new fire truck, the contract for which was awarded at a recent council meeting. The apparatus will arrive early this spring.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—Mrs. G. A. Loeschner entertained the Thimble club at Hotel Menasha Thursday afternoon. Bridge was played and the prizes were won by Mrs. John Mayer and Mrs. J. P. Hruschky. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Pierce.

The Winodauists club met Thursday afternoon at Masonic lodge rooms. Bridge was played and the honors were won by Mrs. W. L. Wheeler and Mrs. H. O. Hough.

The Young Men's club of St. Mary church will hold a meeting Thursday evening, Feb. 12, in their clubrooms at St. Mary school building. Several matters will be considered.

Mrs. Joseph Muench will entertain the Mah Jongg club Monday evening at her home on Main-st.

Menasha—The schafkopf prize winners at the Eagle ladies card party Friday afternoon were Mrs. George Powers, Mrs. John Block, Mrs. Ellisworth Knutze. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Theodore Suess and Mrs. Paul Kelly; at whist by Mrs. Catherine Paul, Mrs. Fred Murrell.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Menasha—The damage case of J. T. Whelan against Badger Products company and others of Menasha which had its origin in an automobile collision on Jan. 13, 1924, was settled out of court at Appleton Friday. J. P. Frank of Appleton represented the plaintiff and M. M. Schoetz of Menasha the defendants.

Chimney Fire
Menasha—The fire department was called early Saturday evening to the home of John Lux on Grand by a chimney fire. Its services were not required.

NEENAH CAGERS SWAMP MENASHA BY 16-5 SCORE

Winners Play Great Game in Annual Battle With Ancient Enemies

Neenah—The Neenah high school basketball team won two games from the Menasha high school teams at the armory Friday evening. The curtain raiser was won by the Neenah second team 6 to 2.

Before an audience estimated at 1,400 the Neenah first team ran away with the Menasha first team in one of the fastest games ever played on the armory floor. The score was 16 to 5. Scholl, left guard for Menasha, started the scoring with a freethrow. Later Smith, forward, made a basket for the only points Menasha made in the first half. A basket was registered by Remmel in the middle of the second half and that was as far as they got.

Neenah showed great speed and accuracy. Still led like a whirlwind with Parker and Bredendick as close seconds. Parker's baskets made from very difficult positions were among the outstanding features of the game while a basket by Still, after dribbling through the opponents brought out a big round cheer.

There never was a time during the game when there was doubt as to who would win the contest, as Neenah forged ahead from the start. Both teams at time had hard luck in their efforts to hit the net.

The crowd was wild with excitement, so loud at times was the cheering that the whistles of the two referees, Blackburn and Bushey, could not be heard.

The teams lined up as follows:
NEENAH
Still, rf 14 ft 3
Parker, lf 3 1 0
Bredendick, c 6 1 0
Keating, rg 0 0 1
Koerwitz, lg 0 0 1

EAGLES CONTINUE ONE DOCTOR PLAN

Committee Reports Against Proposal to Employ Four Doctors for Lodge

Neenah—The plan of having only one doctor will be continued by the Eagle lodge until next June. This was the report of the committee of seventeen members to which was referred the idea of having four doctors instead of one. A plan had been submitted whereby each member would pay a trifle larger dues so he could have a choice of physician in time of sickness. This plan caused so much discussion in the lodge that the matter was referred to a special committee.

At Thursday's meeting the secretary reported that the film, "Under the Eagles' Wing," would be shown at the local theatre on the evening of Feb. 11. It also was decided to christen the big class which is to be in charge of worthy past presidents, the "Charles Blank" class for Mr. Blank who had been one of the hardest workers.

Busy Wife
Has No Time
To Be Dismal

BY CYNTHIA GREY

The real triangle of married life is: The wife, the husband, and the newspaper at the breakfast table.

The happiest wife is the one who has no time to be unhappy.

About the time she begins to think that she's not so awfully happy, the baby cries or the coffee boils over—and she stops thinking.

The mere fact that she's blue about something or other doesn't prevent the house from getting dirty. And the woes of thousands of women have been drowned in the scrub-pail or rubbed out with the marks on the mahogany.

QUESTIONS—ANSWERS

Dear Cynthia: My kitchen is so tiny that it will not have room for both a table and a chair. Is there any combination on the market that I could buy?—Vee Bride.

A one-armed chair such as is used in self-serve restaurants might solve your problem. And any carpenter could make you an adjustable shelf that could be swung back against the wall when not in use.

Dear Miss Grey: My beau and I are too poor to marry. However, we are just as much for each other as rich people do, and I am in great trouble. Could I go to a charity hospital in another town to have my baby, and live there until we are able to make a home for it, so as to escape the disgrace? It would kill me if people knew about this.—Foolish.

No. For the truth would come out in the end, anyway. You must marry the father of your unborn child at once so that it will have a name from the time of its birth. Poverty is a disgrace, but the disgrace you are talking about is a disgrace your child would have to carry all its life if it were illegitimate.

Miss Grey: My neighbor's husband and mine both travel for the same firm. We are alone for two weeks at a time, sometimes longer. My neighbor, who is attractive, often goes out for dinner and to the theater with some of our bachelor friends. Do you see any harm in my doing this?—Lonely Ruth.

Yes. Reserve the situation, and you'll realize how jealous you'd be if your absent husband were dining with other women.

Household Hints

WASHING SILK

When washing silk rub it as little as possible. Squeeze, but do not twist between the hands.

AIR BREAD BOX

Wash and air the bread box frequently.

KEEP SPACE OPEN

Keep the space under your sink open. Do not clutter it with boxes or any scrubbing utensils.

WAX LINOLEUM

Linoleum wears much better if varnished when new and waxed lightly once a week after washing.

How To Make Homes Cozy

TALL PIECES IN LOW ROOMS

High-backed chairs or other tall pieces of furniture in a low-ceilinged room make the entire room look squatly and lower than it actually is. Conversely, low-backed chairs would not do in high-ceilinged rooms. Height of furniture should conform in a general way with the height of the room.

Baby's Health

CHILDREN'S BUREAU, U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

TEETH

The embryonic teeth begin to develop at least six months before birth. It is probable that a nutritious diet for the prospective mother lays the foundation for healthy teeth in the baby and that lack of proper food for the mother deprives both her own and the baby's teeth of some part of their normal vigor.

At birth each tiny tooth of both sets lies partly embedded in a cavity of the jawbone, surrounded with and covered by the softer tissues of the gum. As the baby grows, the teeth grow also, and if the baby is healthy they are ready to cut through the gums, beginning at about the seventh month of life. There are 20 of the milk teeth, five in each half jaw. The teeth appear in groups. There are five of these groups, with intervals between their appearance. After the first group there is a pause of five to eight weeks; after the second a pause of one to three months; after the third, one of from two to three months; after the fourth, one of from two to four months.

Thus by the time the baby is 1 year old, it may have six teeth; at 1½ years there should be 12; at 2 years 16 teeth; and at 2½ years the entire set should be out. There is considerable variation both as to the order in which they appear and in the time, so that the mother need not be alarmed if her baby does not follow the average as above stated, but if the baby has no teeth at the end of the first year it can hardly be said to be developing properly. At least as soon as the molars make their appearance, the teeth should be gently cleaned each day with a soft brush.

Growth—it is important to the development of strong, healthy, teeth that they shall have exercise in biting and chewing. Begin by giving the baby of about a year of age some dry, hard crust or toast, or hard crackers to chew.

To The Mothers of Appleton

If any mother with a baby under one year of age has not received a copy of that beautiful and authoritative book, "Baby's Health" call upon the Appleton Post-Crescent, or any members in Appleton of the Baby's Health Association and a copy will be given free.

LETTER FROM ALICE WHITNEY TO ALICE GRAVES HAMULTON, CONTINUED

Being back to the time when Leslie was married. Mother dear, and I found out that Karl had for years been collecting that string of pearls—that was the beginning of all my troubles. At that time, in my foolish head was born the idea that if I managed to find some way for Karl to give these pearls which in a way were a rosary of the years of Karl's life, to Leslie, he would be forever grateful to me. At that time I did not realize that perhaps the sight of those pearls about my sister's neck would unlose such emotions of jealousy that I would not be myself. I only thought that the planning and putting into execution of ways and means in the giving to Leslie of this necklace would give me a secret in company with Karl, besides more or less confidential conversations with him.

Oh, Mother dear, I know it was a wild scheme, but I was hardly more than a child. As I think of it now I have almost decided that the only mature thing about me was my great love for Karl.

Besides, Betty Stokely and I had ideas at that time of writing the greatest American Novel, and the pearl necklace episode seemed to me to be an original and wonderful chapter to put in it. The giving of the imitation pearls to Leslie from me seemed to be most romantic. I did not think far enough ahead to realize she must inevitably find out they were real.

Poor Karl! You know his idealistic nature. Mother! For 15 years he had been collecting those baubles for Leslie, and they represented so much to him, he snatched at any plan to get them into her possession. He seemed to think that with Leslie's marriage his life was over—and he, too, was still young enough to be romantic.

You know the rest. You know how I gave them to her on the morning of her wedding day. Of course, neither of us expected the complications that followed.

Then I went to England and Karl came over soon after. Finally I brought out a proposal of marriage from him. All the while the ghost of Karl's first love hovered about and scoured my jealous fears into a veritable torment.

When we came back from abroad and I found that Karl had brought back some of the jewels that Leslie had sold, I think I went mad. Then, of course, as you know, I descended to that most dastardly of actions, the writing of an anonymous letter to John.

Mother, I do not know why I did it. I haven't the slightest idea of what good I thought it would do me then. I expect it was the hope I might make Leslie as miserable as I was. You see, I was sure Karl still loved Leslie; of that I am not so sure now. But of one thing I am sure—Karl has lost all the little love he had for me.

Mother, I made him marry me by avowing my intention of killing myself if he did not. Now I have his name. I have his wealth. I have his social deference and polite attention, but that is all. I have not his love nor his respect.

Mother, you still love me a little, do you not? Tell me what to do. You may show this letter to Leslie if you wish, but please, please do not tell Dad. It would kill me to have him lose faith in his little girl. Perhaps some day you will get

No Need For Adornment

Here is an example of the type of trimming that is very popular now. A striped material is cut and mitered to form its own border. Naturally no other adornment is required. The scarf is fringed with Roman stripe colors.

"Here they are. A red one and a blue one and a white one and a mixed one. They're all different inside."

"Would you mind if I took one over to the door and looked at it?" said Snitcher Snatch.

"No, indeed," said the toy-store man. "Take it right along!"

But when he looked around there was no boy and no book. The store was empty.

The goblin had stolen it! When he got outside he sniffed it under his jacket, and hopping on the stop of an automobile, he was soon out of town.

He hopped off at the cross-roads and ran as fast as he could to Doctor Hokus Pokus, who not only doctor goblins but new conjurers' tricks as well.

"Here's a cross-word puzzle," said Snitcher Snatch bustling in. "I want you to mix it up."

"Sure," said Doctor Hokus Pokus. "That's the easiest thing I do."

So he said: "Ibberish, gibberish, filpsey flon, filberish!"

And instantly all the little black squares did a dance and settled down where they didn't belong.

"That will do, thank you," said Snitcher Snatch. "Send the bill to Mama."

And out he hopped. Then he skipped back to town to a professor's house.

No one saw him slip in and lay the

DREAMS
Each Has Its Own Meaning

To be attacked in a dream by one's enemies who have been lying in ambush should be warning enough to protect yourself from your known enemies and to be careful not to make any more bad friends.

You should at all times keep your self-control for such a dream foretells many unhappy events for you.

INTERPRETATIONS

Fighting, even in dreams, brings unhappiness, for you are about to incur the enmity of someone who will do you harm.

You will lose your liberty, probably not as a convict, if you should appear in your dreams handcuffed.

If you have a gun in the house and dream of it, be sure you place it in a safe place for there is danger ahead for you.

Illness will invade your family if an empty house passes through your vision.

FASHION HINTS

EVENING GOWN

A very attractive evening gown is in pink chiffon velvet beaded with blue beads.

STILL POPULAR

The ensemble idea will be as popular for spring as it has this winter. Nearly every dress has its wrap or cape.

SHORT CAPES

Short capes are being featured in flannel and lightweight wools and will be much in evidence for sport wear.

GREEN POPULAR

Nile green, and a deeper green that is not quite emerald green are very much used for evening gowns. Tridescant or pearl beads make the most effective trimming.

NEW FRINGE

There is a new type of fringe that is being used on afternoon and evening frocks that consists in arrow shapes of material about half an inch wide, pleated on the edge and beaded solid with small beads.

LATEST NOVELTY

Hats of orchid colored felt, quite untrimmed are the latest novelty in the millinery field.

WHITE SPORT DRESSES

White silk sport dresses for Palm Beach wear are trimmed with borders and designs that are painted by hand.

DROP SHOULDERS

The drop shoulder line is seen in increasing numbers on evening and dinner gowns.

MOST ATTRACTIVE

Most attractive combinations of pink crepe de chine are bound with green ribbon and have green ribbon running through embroidered eyelids outlining the waistline.

Snitcher Snatch hid under the lounge and watched, and by and by the professor came in.

"Now for a cross-word puzzle before dinner time," said he.

"Too late," snickered the goblin. "I am going to have a lot of fun if the Twins let me alone."

Clothes For
Sports Wear
Are Essential

New York—"Sports clothes have become increasingly important since we spend so much of the year at summer or winter resorts and since week-end-ing in the country has become such a common practice," says a designer.

In showing the marvelous collection of sweaters, scarfs, jerseys, ensembles and smart sport hats that help make golf, tennis and riding decorative as well as reducing sports, the distinguished importer and creator pointed out that sport clothes are not nearly so casual as they look.

"They are more or less standardized now," he said, "and though they are capable of great individuality they must conform to fashion's edicts."

"The smart woman no longer puts on a sweater, skirt and hat at random and considers herself dressed for the country. Her whole costume is as carefully thought out as the one in which she appears at the opera."

EASY TO WEAR

Sports clothes are more becoming and easier to wear than any other for the woman who has kept her school girl figure. Otherwise they present a problem since they are less capable of softening touches and deviations from a certain severity.

"This season," he says, "we are not limited as to materials. There are the new knitted jerseys that come in the most delightful weaves as well as the new velveteen in plaids and stripes, plain and figured kashas, the softest homespuns and English mixtures as well as hand-knitted frocks."

The sport dress is not denied trimming. Fur is used extensively, and buttons, embroidery and fancy stitchings are used with discretion.

"The ensemble idea prevails in the world of sports as it does everywhere else," he says. "Coats are all lengths, but most of them are long with an easy swing from shoulder to hemline and with collars that may be worn open or closed."

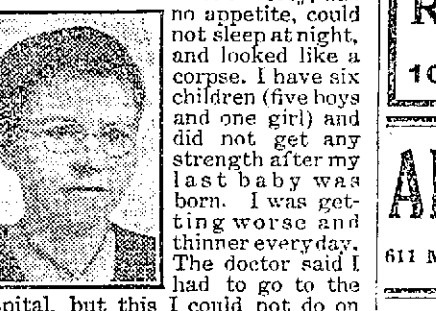

One of the most attractive costumes is of brilliant green knitted wool jersey worn with a long tunic of black and white striped jersey and bright green buttons.

Doctor Advised Operation
Friend Said Try Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound First

St. Paul, Minn.—"I was all run-down from overwork and worry, had no appetite, could not sleep at night, and looked like a corpse. I have six children (five boys and one girl) and did not get any strength after my last baby was born. I was getting worse and thinner every day. The doctor said I had to go to the hospital, but this I could not do on account of my family. So I went to a friend of mine and told her what the doctor had told me and she said: 'Now do as I tell you. Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I have done. It helped me.' So I started taking the Vegetable Compound and I noticed after the first few bottles that I felt considerably better. After taking 9 or 10 bottles I got over my fainting spells. Everybody who sees me now notices the great improvement in my health. I am gaining in weight and strength and am feeling fine. Eat well and sleep good nights."—MRS. are of all sizes and have lots of life and color to them. Colors are very brilliant and materials are soft and supple in spite of being very warm and woolly. Often tapes and coats are fur lined instead of being entirely fur.

Hats are small felt affairs very much like the ones worn in town except they are more colorful. They are designed to harmonize with the costume.

COMFORT ESSENTIAL

In all efforts at elegance and evidences of it must be maintained originality, comfort and ease and the unless a sport costume looks absolutely comfortable from hat to shoes, it has failed. A skirt too narrow, a blouse that binds, a shoe that is too drabby cannot be tolerated.

Every accessory must complete the picture. The sweater and plaited skirt needs its own hat and scarf. Not a single item must be purchased for itself alone, but in relation to the harmony of the whole.

Favorite songs of the hour, one of them in waltz, and the other one in fox-trot style. "All Alone," one of the most emphatic of popular successes, is in the current waltz idiom, and this great artist sings it with perfect understanding. "Rose-Marie" is an artistic number, with a catching melody, with bits of Debussyan whole-tone scale in its orchestral introduction, and with flashes of color from trumpet, cello and flute. It deserves more than the favor of a day, for the artist has made of it—and its companion—a record of highly unusual beauty.

You have heard John McCormack over Radio and you will surely want this record.

LAWRENCE SNATCHES 25-23 VICTORY FROM BELOIT

Basket In Final 25 Seconds Gives Blue Hardest Win Of Year

Appleton Collegians Outplay Visitors on Floor but Long Shots Threaten to Beat Them

Lawrence Friday night nosed out a 25 to 23 win over Beloit here in the fastest, closest game played on the Army G court this season, after the score had seemed throughout the contest. There were very few short shots made and it was a perfect long one by Pete Briesse with less than 25 seconds to go that gave Lawrence the game. The Blue outplayed Beloit in floorwork, but Vondrashek's and Depou's wonderful shooting several times threatened to be too much for the Lawrenceans most of whose shots dropped short or rolled off the rim. Neither team was in the lead by more than four points at any time during the game and both showed an almost impenetrable defense.

Two long shots by Vondrashek in the first two minutes of play gave Beloit a start, but Lawrence unimpaired all its guns soon after and at the end of the half had tied the score 14 to 14. In the second half, both teams tightened up, but after several minutes Vondrashek shot another one from the middle of the floor. Briesse tied the score again and after Vondrashek had cased a freethrow Zussman dropped one through from under the basket which gave Lawrence the lead for the first time. Thereafter the Blue led until the last ten minutes when two perfect long shots by Depou and another by Vondrashek once again tied the score. Kotal and Briesse each took a long chance in the last five minutes and their shots found the mark.

FIRST HALF
A few seconds after the tipup Vondrashek shot from beyond the middle of the floor with perfect accuracy and a moment later followed with another, a few feet shorter. Kotal unable to get a close shot and surrounded by hostiles, let drive from the same place and dropped the ball through the hoop and after Depou had followed Vondrashek's example with a long range shot, Heideman followed suit.

It began to look bad for Lawrence when another of Vondrashek's shots found the ring while all of Lawrence's attempts were still. Lawrence tried four long shots in a row but they all fell short by inches while all of Beloit's shots were close. Zussman missed a free throw on Depou's personal but Ashman made one out of two when Vondrashek fouled him and Kotal followed with another.

With the score 5 to 5 and Beloit leading, Vondrashek caged a pretty shot but Depou missed a freethrow after Kotal fouled him. Heideman's freethrow on Vondrashek's foul made the score 10 to 7 and the crowd came to its feet with a roar when Briesse's long shot made it 10 to 9. However Depou shot one through the hoop to increase the lead again, and Lawrence missed six attempts in succession. When Kotal caged one Vondrashek came through again. Then Watson fouled Heideman who made one of his freethrows and the half ended immediately after Ashman's shot had dropped through the hoop to tie the score, 14 to 14.

SECOND HALF
Vondrashek again started the ball rolling with a shot from far beyond center, but Briesse's basket brought another deadlock which was broken in favor of Beloit when Vondrashek made one of two freethrows on Briesse's personal.

Lawrence took the lead for the first time when Zussman dribbling under the basket dropped the ball into the hoop and increased it to 20 to 17 when Briesse made both his foul shots off Vondrashek's third personal.

Depou shot a brace of freethrows wide of the mark and Briesse made one when Watson was called. Then Depou shooting from the center of the floor dropped one through and after Vondrashek had scored again, Depou caged another which again put his team on top.

Kotal took a desperate chance which was successful and the score was 23 to 23 with less than three minutes to go. The players of both teams tried everything on the books to score, but up to 25 seconds before the end neither had succeeded. Then Briesse shot from the sideline beyond center and the game was won just as the final gun went off.

The lineup—

ATHLETICS WIN FROM HILBERT'S ALL HOME QUINT

Kimberly Swamps Strong Five on Home Floor, 42 to 22

Kimberly—Kimberly Athletics Friday night swamped the strong Hilbert All Home basketball team, 42 to 22, on the Hilbert court. The All Home quintet had been defeating some of the best in the state, and the Athletics went there to find out what gave them the necessary drive. One of Hilbert's star forwards Eldredge, was out most of the first half with an arm sore from vaccination, and during that time the Athletics piled up a big lead which Hilbert was unable to overcome. When Kimberly practically had the game salted, Eldredge came in and started a rally, but it was too late.

At halftime the Athletics were leading, 27 to 7. Kull was the individual scoring star for Kimberly making eight fieldgoals. Scheurle and Loose followed with six and five respectively, while Boettcher made two baskets and a freethrow. Cooke, contenting himself with a defensive game because of an injured nose, made but one freethrow.

Meier, running mate to Eldredge at forward, starred as scorer for Hilbert with 3 fieldgoals and 4 freethrows.

The lineups—
Kimberly: R. F. Kull, Meier, R. F. L. F. Loose, Schmidt, Eldredge, L. F. C. Cooke, Ortleb, C. R. G. Boettcher, Suttner, R. G. L. G. Scheurle, Zollner, L. G.

SEYMOUR CREAMERY BEATS BEAR CREEK

Seymour—Seymour Creamery five Friday night broke the winning streak of the Black Creek city team here with a 28 to 18 win, after the visitors had won six straight games. A large crowd saw the game which was hardfought throughout. The half ended with Seymour leading, 5 to 5, but in the second half the visitors were unable to keep up the pace.

A return game is scheduled for next week at Black Creek.

The lineups—

LEWIS, THROWN OVER ROPES, WINS ON FOUL

Chicago—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who was tossed from the ring and defeated recently by Wayne Munn in Kansas City, was thrown over the ropes into the laps of spectators in a rough match here Friday night with Joe Zickmund.

The referee awarded the match to Lewis on a foul after 35 minutes and 47 seconds of wrestling.

NEW YORK—The New York Boxing commission indefinitely suspended Johnny Dundee after receipt of a letter from the French Federation of Boxing regarding his alleged "touting" of a contracted fight with Fred Bretonnel in Paris, Jan. 27.

Sheboygan Bows To East Green Bay In High School Fracas

FRIDAY'S RESULTS
APPLETON 20, Fond du Lac 11.
East Green Bay 15, Sheboygan 11.
Manitowoc 26, Marinette 13.
Oshkosh 12, West Green Bay 5.

By virtue of a 20 to 11 victory from the Cardinals at Fond du Lac Appleton again is tied for the lead of the valley high school conference with East Green Bay, which upset Sheboygan, 15 to 14, at the Chair City Friday night. Both the present leaders last week were shunted into a tie for second place by defeats at the hands of Fond du Lac and Manitowoc.

Manitowoc, playing on its home court defeated Marinette, 26 to 13, while Oshkosh defeated West Green Bay, 12 to 5, at Oshkosh.

Fond du Lac was able to make but one lone basket during its game with Appleton. This fieldgoal was scored by Dolan, star forward. All the rest of the Cardinals' points were scored on freethrows.

Ashman was the individual scoring star for the Orange with four baskets, while Fraser made three. Appleton took a good lead early in the first quarter which ended 9 to 2.

At the half the Orange led 13 to 8 and finished the third period leading 16 to 8.

Fond du Lac was outplayed in every department of the game. Encouraged by the return of Ashman and Courtney the Appleton youngsters put up one of the best games of the season to beat the favorites, who had been considered the strongest team in the conference before their meeting with Appleton.

This victory gives the Orange an excellent chance at the title.

SIX TEAMS CLASH IN BIG TEN TILTS

Chicago—Six Western conference basketball teams meet Saturday night in the weekend scramble for advanced positions in the championship race. Illinois the leader was not scheduled.

Chicago hoped to find in Michigan its guest, a team that it could victimize for its first conference victory. The Michigan five boasting Hagerty who has averaged 11 points a game this season was favored to win.

Northwestern entertained Iowa, a high scorer despite its two defeats. Purdue visited Minnesota which ranks higher in the present standing.

Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio State take a layoff.

New York—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., lightweight received a decision over Sid Terris, New York, at the end of 12 rounds.

SAMMY MANDELL BEATS TERRIS IN NEW YORK BATTLE

Middle West Holds Key to Lightweight Crown as Result of Win

New York—For a time the middle west holds the key to the lightweight boxing championship taken from New York Friday night by Sammy Mandell's sensational twelve round victory over Sid Terris of the east side fast and furious product of the amateur ranks, yet not fast enough to avoid the aggressive attack of the man from Rockford, Ill.

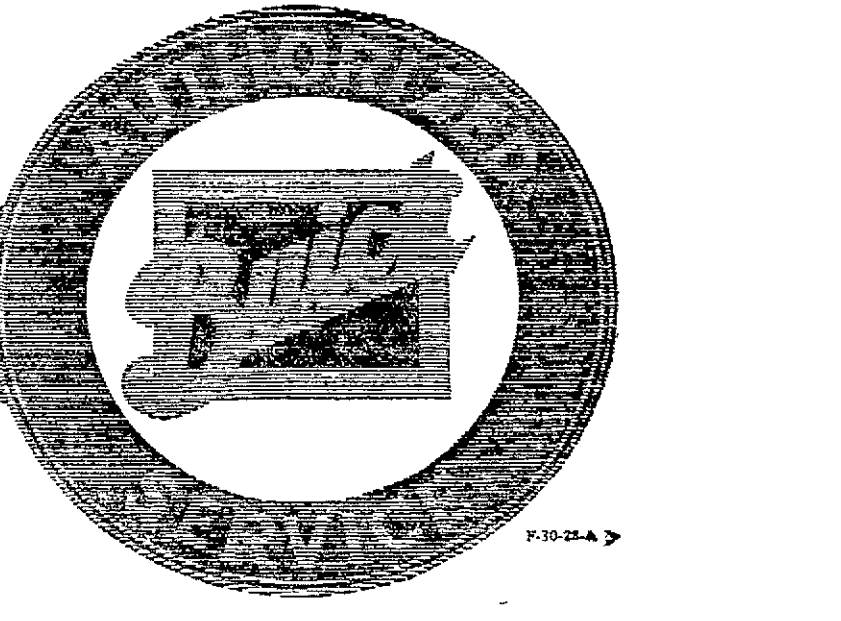

Terris in the opinion of New York sports writers, was until Friday night, the leading contender for the honors held by Champion Benny Leonard which he relinquished some days ago.

For a time Friday night Terris cast aside his customary caution and went after his opponent in a rough style which sent Mandell to the floor in the third for the count of one, the only knockdown of the bout. After three rounds, however the New Yorker resorted to his clever defense.

Mandell showed anything but fear and attacked with an enthusiasm that had Terris against the ropes backing away on several occasions and his persistence won the verdict. Both Mandell and Terris withdrew Friday from the New York State Athletic commission tournament to name a successor to Leonard Johnny Dundee also announced his unwillingness to participate, leaving only 14 men for the eliminations.
